

Attention FDA

It came to my attention that the FDA is being asked to take away my right to sign a medical waiver before purchasing a hearing aid. Instead I would be forced to have a medical exam or hearing test. Here's my views and/or experiences on several related questions?

1. Should I be forced to have a medical exam and/or hearing test before purchasing a hearing aid? If so, should the FDA pay for the exam?

Originally the FDA was started on the right track. As in other cases some leaders got the big head and began acting as they were like the FBI. Example: Putting the squeeze on raw milk sellers, years ago in Sabosa, Ohio I purchased raw milk from one whose dairy room and cow barn were much cleaner than those who sold to big milk companies.

2. Some people are physically unable to drive to a doctor or hearing specialist, or have had bad experiences they don't want to repeat. For instance ...

On Oregon I learned of people who purchased hearing aids for $1500<sup>00</sup> and up and were dissatisfied with them. To get refund was a battle, sometimes unsuccessful.

3. Should the FDA take away my Constitutional Right, affirmed by the Supreme Court, to decide for myself my medical exams and treatment?

El, $ & Co. founded on the principle of fair competition in business, What are doing as to hearing aid purchases is totalling against this. Do you really like what you are doing? Shame on you.

4. Should I be allowed to purchase hearing aids by mail as I choose?

yes. If a law is passed to require an exam before buying Hearing Aids, and you had promoted such a law, you like the A.C.U., would help destroy the liberty our founding fathers set up for us. Some like to tear down instead of build up. Had have mercy on you if this is your plan.
